'Gaining knowledge must be top priority of students'

Mysuru, June 19 (SSM)- "Gaining proper knowledge improves in building mental prosperity. Knowledge must be the top priority of students to build their future," said Dr. N.N. Prahallada, former Professor of Education, Regional Institute of Education (RIE), National Council of Educational Research and Training (NCERT).

He was speaking after inaugurating the 40-day free UGC-NET and K-SET exam training classes organised by Jnanabuthi Coaching Centre at Lakshmipuram Government High School and PU College premises in city on Tuesday last.

"Knowledge can be obtained only by collecting information. Teachers in all the stages of a student's education career will provide proper information to them. It is in the hands of students to acquire the information and gain knowledge. Acquiring knowledge develops wisdom," said Dr. Prahallada.

R.N. Padmanabha, Retd. Professor, Department of Journalism, Maharaja's College, said "Those who dream to be a lecturer in a profession must have some ethics. Time management and following rules helps a lecturer to build a strong image in the society," he added.

Labour Department Deputy Commissioner A.J. Srivalli said, "We should develop the ability to convert our knowledge into skill. Hundred percent efforts and preparations must be done to face any competitive exam. Concentrate on the pattern of exam and nothing can stop you."

Jnanabuthi Coaching Centre General Secretary Jainahalli Satyanarayanagowda, Dr. H.S. Yogesh, Rohan Ravikumar, Prof. V. Jayaprakash and others were present.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

MONITOR CONSTITUENCIES TOO: India must adopt an outcome-oriented approach on nutrition programmes. It is crucial that Parliamentarians begin monitoring needs and interventions in their Constituencies and raise awareness on the issues, impact and solutions to address the challenges at the local level. There has to be direct engagement with nutritionally vulnerable groups (this includes the elderly, pregnant women, those with special needs and young children), and contribute toward ensuring last-mile delivery of key nutrition services and interventions. This will ensure greater awareness on the one hand and proper planning and implementation of programmes at the grassroots level on the other, which can then be replicated at the District and National levels.

With basic education and general awareness, every individual is informed, takes initiatives at the personal level and can become an agent of change. Various studies highlight a strong link between mothers' education and improved access and compliance with nutrition interventions among children. We must ensure our young population has a competitive advantage; nutrition and health are foundational to that outcome.

Every one is a stakeholder and should contribute towards ending malnutrition and anaemia. We should not become part of a tragedy that is preventable.

NEWS SPARKLERS

Ex-girlfriend to pay $9,000 as dating expenses

China: Chinese media has reported an unusual case of a Shanghai man who allegedly compiled an incredibly detailed list of expenses incurred while dating a woman who had since broken up with him.

List features hundreds of line items, complete with dates and times, as well as descriptions of specific expenditures for clarity. He allegedly sent his ex the list as proof of money he spent on her during their relationship, demanding that she compensate him by paying $9,000.

Netizens declared themselves shocked not only by the man's gesture but also by his ability to remember all these expenses from months of dating. List included trivial expenditures such as "two bottles of water", as well as more substantial expenses, like taking care of ex's sick mother. It also mentions if each expenditure was shared as a couple or if the ex was the only beneficiary.

Custom coffins for vampire fans

Japan: Ziggy Vamp, a Tokyo-based company that specialises in products for wannabe vampires, is selling hand-made, customizable coffin furniture. For just 429,000 yen ($3,200), you can now order essential vampire bed and feel like a true blood-sucker.

Not only is it hand-made from actual wood, by carpenters at established woodworking and upholstering companies Yushin Kensho and Dainichi, but they are highly customizable and have multiple uses. There's nothing wrong with getting a vampire coffin bed, but if you ever get tired of it, you can simply use it as something else. As demonstrated in a series of promotional images, the coffin can be used as a couch, dining table or extra storage space.

Ziggy Vamp initiated a crowd-funding campaign for the vampire coffin bed in 2020, and realised that there was a demand for this kind of unusual furniture, so they set up a production line.

VOICE OF THE READER

Stop bursting crackers at midnight

Sir,

Of late it has become a trend to celebrate birthdays and other events by bursting crackers during middle of the night in peaceful suburbs of Mysuru.

This is a big nuisance and needs to be dealt with a stern hand by the authorities concerned.

Bursting crackers at an unearthly hour causes lot of inconvenience to senior citizens, kids, pets and street dogs who become agitated and lose their sleep for the rest of the night.

Even during Deepavali, there is a time limit for bursting crackers but the same doesn't seem to apply for rest of the days.

Recently, Police cracked down on vehicles with modified silencers which make lot of noise. Similarly, there should be a conscious effort to ensure that nobody bursts crackers in the middle of the night. Hope the concerned will look into this matter on priority.

Cauvery Multi-Speciality Hospital

successfully treats heart patient from Yemen

Mysuru, June 19- Cauvery Heart and Multi-Speciality Hospital, Siddarthanagar, Mysuru, has successfully treated a heart patient from Yemen. Mohammed Hussein Ahmed, aged 58, was having cardiac problem from many years and had undergone stenting a few years back. From the past one year he was having severe breathing difficulty, swelling of legs and was not able to sleep or walk.

Addressing a press meet in city recently, Dr. S.C. Madhuprakash, Chief Cardiac Surgeon, said: "When the patient came to us he was suffering from heart failure with low cardiac function. He was brought to us by another Yemen patient on whom we had operated 3 years back. When we evaluated him, he had blocks in the stent and also the two valves were leaking badly, with poor heart function. He was requiring two bypasses, one valve replacement and another valve repair."

"It was difficult and challenging, not only because of tough operation we had to conduct but also after the surgery these patients need extra care, because heart failure takes more time to settle after successful surgery," he observed.

Dr. Satwik Telkar, Chief Cardiac Anaesthetist, said: "Post-surgery is also very crucial time as the patient needs regular monitoring, extra care and proper decisions."

After an uneventful and successful surgery, the patient has recovered smoothly and is ready to fly back home in just one month after the surgery.

Dr. G.R. Chandrashekar, Chairman of Cauvery Heart & Multi-Speciality Hospital, said they have been performing cardiac surgeries with good results since 10 years and that they accept all challenging cases too.

B.J. Sandeep Patel, Facility Director, too spoke.

IDY with PM: Final yoga rehearsal held at Palace

With flautist Srinidhi Kitti's background music, over 12,000 yoga enthusiasts performed yoga under the guidance of Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga Director Ishwar Basavaraddi with instructions in both Kannada and Hindi.

The 45-minute yoga demo started with chalana kriya (warm-up), followed by asanas like Tadasana, Vrikshasana, Padahastasana, Ardha Halasana, etc., Kapalbhati, Nadi Shodana Pranayama, Sheetali Pranayama, Bhramari Pranayama, Dhyana, Sankalpa and concluded with Shanti Mantra as mentioned in the common yoga protocol.

Speaking to media, MP Pratap Simha said that a total of 15,000 yoga enthusiasts including 12,000 public and 3,000 people from the list sent by industries and offices have registered to perform yoga at the Palace along with the PM.

While Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot, District Minister S.T. Somashekar and Health Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar will enter the Palace from Jayamarthanda Gate, other VIPs and people's representatives will enter the venue from Karikal Thotti Gate.

Mysore Royal Family members Pramoda Devi Wadiyar and Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar will join the PM and other dignitaries on stage. Separate blocks have been created for other VIPs and people's representatives. Who will occupy which place in the Palace premises on the IDY event, will be finalised by Morarji Desai Institute of Yoga Director by this evening.

After the yoga demonstration, the PM will visit Exhibition Grounds by walk and return to Palace and have breakfast with Wadiyars at their royal residence, the MP briefed on the PM's itinerary at the Palace.

District Minister Somashekar, who too spoke on the occasion, said that official yoga rehearsals were earlier held on June 5 and June 12 and today's rehearsal was the final one. A total of 51 separate categories will perform yoga at the IDY event, he said adding that all formalities have been completed for the main event and if rains do not interrupt, it will be successful.

Confirming that there will be no more rehearsal and today's was the final one, the Minister said that there will be four entry points at the Palace, while two entry gates are for guests, VIPs and people's reps, North and South gates are for yoga enthusiasts.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, who too spoke, said that in view of PM's visit, law and order situation has been reviewed and necessary security arrangements have been made with all senior officers coming together.

Police have been drawn from different places and KSRP personnel too have been deployed in large numbers to make sure that there are no loopholes in the PM's security. Also, LED screens have been installed at a few points in the Palace premises so that everyone can have a clear view of the stage.

At the rehearsals today, announcement was being made for the registered yoga enthusiasts to gather at the venue before 5.30 am on June 21. Yoga Federation of Mysore Chairman D. Srihari and office-bearers too were present at the final rehearsal.

Security arrangements in place: Home Minister

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&BNR)- A total of 161 nations across the globe will be celebrating International Day of Yoga and Prime Minister Narendra Modi will be taking part in the celebrations at Mysuru city which is a matter of pride for us, said Home Minister Araga Jnanendra.

He was addressing a press meet at Jaladarshini Guest House in city this morning, after inspecting the venues and routes the Prime Minister would be traversing in city.

Stating that security arrangements are in place, the Home Minister said that the number of personnel deployed for the duty cannot be disclosed due to security reasons.

He also mentioned that security has been heightened following the arrest of suspected terrorist in Bengaluru and 'Agnipath' protests.

Reacting on 'Agnipath' protests, the Minister said that it was the best project aimed at providing jobs to over 45,000 youths.

Youngsters should have thanked the PM for the project, he said and added that instead of protecting the country's assets they were burning it.

Explaining about 'Agnipath,' the Minister said that the PM's dream was to provide jobs to over 45,000 youths in the age group of 17-23 years with SSLC and PUC qualification. After four years, 25% of these youths would be directly recruited by Army and the rest would be appointed in the security agencies, Police, Home Guards and Fire Services Departments. Agnipath is one part of the 10 lakh jobs assured by the PM and hence, it should be welcomed by one and all, he added.

II PUC results

Sooryarangan and Karthik Moudgalya top district

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&DM)- Two boys from city have topped in Science stream while a girl student has come top in Commerce stream in II PUC examinations in Mysuru district, the results of which was announced yesterday.

Sooryarangan

Jayalakshmipuram's SBRR Mahajana PU College student H.P. Sooryarangan and Kuvempunagar's Adichunchanagiri PU College student S.V. Karthik Moudgalya came toppers in Science stream, while S. Varshini, a student of Navkis College on Bannur Road in the city topped in Commerce stream.

Sooryarangan and Karthik scored 594 out of 600 in Science followed by C. Mayura Aditya of VVSGJ PU College who scored 593.

In Commerce, S. Varshini topscored with 594 marks followed by S.P. Inchara (593) of St. Joseph's College in Jayalakshmipuram and K.N. Bhoomika (590) of MMK&SDM PU College, Krishnamurthypuram.

In Arts, Nida Tarnum of Good Shepherd PU College in Lashkar Mohalla became the topper in the district securing 581 marks, followed by R. Reesha of Marimallappa PU College with 579 marks and S.K. Keerthana, also of Marimallappa, with 578.

Sooryarangan scored centums in Physics, Chemistry, Maths, Computer Science and Kannada and 94 in English, totalling 594/600. He is the son of H.J. Prasanna and A.S. Lalitha couple of Paduvarahalli (Vinayakanagar). Karthik Moudgalya, who also scored 594, is the son of S.R. Venkatesh and B.A. Roopa.

Mysuru district, which recorded a pass percentage of 64.45 slipped to 17th position this time from the 14th position it held last year, when it recorded a better pass percentage of 67.98.

As several times in the past, girls overshone boys by recording a higher pass percentage in the district.

MLA's wife passes in first class

Interestingly, Anitha Mahesh, wife of K.R. Nagar JD(S) MLA S.R. Mahesh, was one among those who passed the II PU this time. Anitha passed out in first class in Arts stream, scoring 98 in Kannada, 70 each in English, History and Sociology, 56 in Economics and 55 in Political Science, totalling 419/600 marks. She had appeared for the exam as a private candidate. Stating that she had passed SSLC in 1993 and could not pursue studies then, Anitha said now after a gap of 28 years, she has passed PU in first class, for which she was happy.

Anitha Mahesh

Maintaining that hardly anyone knew that she was the wife of MLA S.R. Mahesh, she said that she has already passed a course in Hindi and wants to take up a Degree course at KSOU.

Anitha has two sons — Dr. Dhanush, an MBBS graduate now pursuing MS at a Medical College in Bengaluru and Jayanth, doing business in Mysuru.

DDPUE attributes slip in pass

percentage to I PU pass without exam

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&DM)- Even as Mysuru slipped to 17th position in the ranking of districts regarding II PUC results, Mysuru DDPUE D.K. Srinivasmurthy has attributed the fall to the passing of I PU students without exam due to COVID last year.

Speaking to press persons at his office here on Saturday a couple of hours after the PU Board announced the results, Srinivasmurthy said that barring a few districts, all other districts have witnessed a slip in their ranking this year when compared to the previous year. However, it is somewhat satisfactory to note that Mysuru has registered a better pass percentage in Science and Commerce streams when compared to the district-wise results.

Pointing out that the poor performance in Arts stream is one of the reasons for the district's fall in rankings, he said that a high percentage of students from the Arts stream in rural areas have been unsuccessful.

The Department will start making preparations for achieving better results and a top ranking next year, from now itself, he added.

City students excel

Mysuru, June 19 (MTY&DM)- Several city students from different colleges have excelled in the second PU exam.

WORD OF THE DAY

Heyday

Pronunciation: hey·day | \ ˈhā-ˌdā \.
Meaning: The period of one's greatest popularity, vigour or prosperity; high spirits.
Origin: In its earliest appearances in English, in the 16th century, heyday was used as an interjection that expressed elation or wonder (similar to our word hey, from which it derives). Within a few decades, heyday was seeing use as a noun meaning "high spirits." This sense can be seen in Act III, scene 4 of Hamlet, when the Prince of Denmark tells his mother, "You cannot call it love; for at your age / The heyday in the blood is tame...." The word's second syllable is not thought to be borne of the modern word day (or any of its ancestors), but in the 18th century the syllable's resemblance to that word likely influenced the development of the now-familiar use referring to the period when one's achievement or popularity has reached its zenith.
Example: In its heyday, the circus was a major form of entertainment for small-town America.

THE ODD WORD

Hortatory

Exhorting, advising, serving to encourage or urge to good deeds.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Hang up one's spurs

Meaning: To retire, to stop doing something.
Origin: We're talking here about two different traditions in which two different things are hung up—(1) war trophies and (2) tools of the trade. To get to the bottom of these traditions, we have to go back to biblical and classical times. It's likely that for as long as there have been wars, the victors have taken the armour of the defeated—the weapons, shields, helmets, spurs, heraldic banners, and so on—as trophies. In an 1878 issue of Popular Science, Herbert Spencer wrote about this ancient tradition: "The Philistines, besides otherwise displaying relics of the dead Saul, put 'his armor in the house of Ashtaroth.' By the Greeks the trophy, formed of arms, shields, and helmets, taken from the defeated, was consecrated to some divinity; and the Romans deposited the spoils brought back from battle in the temple of Jupiter Capitolinus. ... Hundreds of gilt spurs of French knights vanquished by the Flemish in the battle of Courtrai were deposited in the church of that place." But the notion of hanging up one's own spurs (or gun, or sword, or other implement) is very different from displaying the spurs of another—someone defeated in battle.
Example: I've been at the company for 30 years, so it's time for me to hang up my spurs.
